

Forenoon, novel coronavirus pneumonia was reported on 24 February, according to Yonhap reported 24 days ago. At 9 a.m., 161 new cases of pneumonia were confirmed in South Korea, and 763 cases were confirmed. A new death case was found, with 7 deaths in total.

Among the 161 newly confirmed cases, 142 were from Daegu city and gyeongshang North Road, 10 from Gyeonggi Road, 3 from Seoul, 2 from Busan, 1 from Guangzhou and 3 from gyeongshang South Road. Of these, 129 cases were associated with the "Xintiandi" Daegu church, and the remaining 32 cases were investigating the infection route.

A new death case, a 62 year old male, was associated with the Tainan hospital in Qingdao County, North Qingshang road.

A novel coronavirus was diagnosed on the 23 day of a 16 month old baby in Korea. It is the smallest infected person in Korea.